

Mrs. Encarnacion J. Addad

January 19, 1925 - October 16, 2015

Encarnacion Javier Addad - January 19, 1925 to October 16, 2015

Encarnacion Javier Addad passed away peacefully in her home on October 16, 2015 at 8:30 am. She was 90 years old and had been under hospice care since June 1 of this year.

She was an adventurous woman, barely 20, when she left home in 1945 to begin her health care career as a civilian employee working at the Victoria Luna Hospital in Tagudin, Illocos Sur, one of the base hospitals for the U.S. Armed Forces campaign in the Philippines. With a high school diploma and only a year and a half of college, she taught herself how to type, developed her office skills, and soon became a valued administrative employee at the base. When the war was winding down, her former Chief Nurse moved on to another hospital in Manila and suggested that mom follow her. With a simple letter of recommendation written to the base commander, mom was offered a new position, soon acquiring the same respect and admiration as with her previous job.

It was at this point that she met Antonio Rosendo Addad. Despite her family's concerns, they married in 1950. She followed Antonio to San Francisco, and they remained married for 38 years until his death in 1988. Theirs was a relationship of contrasts. He was unruly, she was intentional; he was traditional, she was progressive. Where he was satisfied with a simple life and long established friends, she was a joiner and strove to meet new and different people. They complemented and contrasted each other in many ways.

Using her military experience as a foundation, Encarnacion Addad enrolled in a Bay Area training program and became a medical assistant in 1959. She acquired a position with a doctor in general practice in a private office, and remained a dedicated employee for almost 30 years until she chose to retire when the practice closed.

After Antonio's death, Encarnacion maintained her independence, caring for her house and garden, volunteering at her parish church, hosting parties in her home, assisting in the care of her granddaughter, and remaining a loving and devoted mother to her sons and their wives. Because of these, she will be greatly missed.

Encarnacion Javier Addad was the youngest of seven siblings born to Demetrio Javier and Beatriz Cariaga in Laoag, Illocos Norte, Philippines. She is survived by sons Roland Addad and Ron Addad, and Roland's wife Julie Wu-Addad, and their daughter Nicole Martine Addad; and Ron's wife Deborah Goodman Addad. She also leaves behind numerous cousins, nephews, and nieces, and their families in the Philippines and the United States. Her extended family of Javiers remembers her as caring, feisty, active, and independent.

The family owes a debt of gratitude to the executive staff and caregivers of Medical Care Professionals of South San Francisco, whose continued diligence and gentle support provided Encarnacion with the home care she needed during these past several months. Without them, and the expertise of the Sutter Health Care at Home team, the family would not have been as successful in fulfilling all of Encarnacion's wishes.

“ To the Addad Family,

Our thoughts and prayers for the repose of her soul. Mrs Encarnacion Addad was a devoted member of the United Laoaguenos Mutual Aid Assoc. of San Francisco. Her support to the organization was unselfish, attending most of our activities, parties, picnics and our yearly rosary for our patron saint, San Guillermo. She will be greatly missed by our members especially those who were close to her.

I had the opportunity to meet her thru my late grandmother who was also a member.

The ULMAA extends it's deepest condolences to the family. May she rest in peace and may our dear Lord keep her in His Kingdom. May our dear Lord comfort you in your moments of sorrow.

Sincerely.

“ My dearest Rol and Ron,
Your beloved Mom, Encarnacion Javier Addad, my very beloved Auntie Carnie, will ever live on in my memory. I will always love and remember her as a very upright person; a loving aunt, kind, generous; a woman who was strong in her faith and hope in God and, consequently, faithful in her love of God. She was one who did not want to inconvenience or burden anyone; she simply suffered patiently, preferring to bear her pains and hurts silently. She graciously gave my only sister Lina and me moral and financial support in our studies.

Your Mom supported me all the way in my religious-missionary vocation. Truly, I owe your Mom a big debt of gratitude and only Our Loving God can give her a full return of her goodness to Lina, to my brothers, Simon and Nick, and to me.

Out of love and gratitude, I tried my very best to accompany her, though from a great distance, in her later life, especially in her time of ailment, by faithfully praying for her and communicating with her whenever I could. It is my great joy that she passed away peacefully, after having been surrounded with love and care by you and your spouses, Julie and Debbie, by her granddaughter Nicole, by Rev. Fr. Alan, by her caregivers, and those who took time to visit her in her time of illness. She has passed away, but I continue to hold her in my heart, and I trust that, with God's grace, we will all be reunited with her in Heaven in a life of everlasting happiness in God and with God.

My most sincere condolence and prayerful sympathy for you in your time of bereavement! United with you in prayer,

Your cousin,

Sister Mary Pauline, Juanita Javier Tamayo, SSpS

“ Cousins,
Our fondest memories are of our mom's at the PINA dinners or at Uncle Marc's parties on Ina Court in their "mom clique" (and our dads in the kitchen cooking!) while we kids ran around playing hide and seek.
Also, Auntie came over the house the Sunday our Mom passed and her presence helped Ed, Les and I get through that very long day. Our prayers to you and your families for strength and comfort now and always.

Our prayers and condolence to the Addad family. Manang Carning was always so close to our family. Mom would ask about her when she was still alive. We missed her presence then but our memories of her will forever be etched in our minds. Rest in peace Manang. Mom will be happy to see you again!Julio Suguitan and Family
