“ Aunt Goya was the most loving, giving, and faith-filled woman I've known. I wasn't born into the Labrado family, but she made me feel part of the family right away. I will never forget her calling me "what's her name" in honor of her brother Jess. (his nick-name for me) There is no doubt that God wrapped his loving arms around her as she went to Heaven. She will be missed very much, but loved forever.

“ So I remember Auntie Goya as saintly and very funny! 😂 We would laugh at the stupidest things. She often cracked herself up along with everybody else! I loved her dearly and relied on her when I needed to talk. Many times I called her and we would cry together missing my mom and dad. She gave me advise to get out of my funk by telling me to stop thinking of myself. Go for a walk and talk to people. Even today, knowing she is not a phone call away, I want to call her! 😭 I will miss her but I DO know she went home to Our Father! She is blessed and some day we will be together again. Auntie Goya had a good life. She told me she enjoyed her life and all of Gods blessings. So rejoice in the fact that she is fine now! Its not goodbye, I'll see you later Auntie Goya! 🙏💖
