In memory of Irving Stevenson
On behalf of the Harvey D. LaFlamme family, as well as the Thomas A. Short family, I am extending our heartfelt condolences to all of Irv's friends and family. Our families were blessed with his presence in our work lives at the Thomas A. Short Company for more than thirty years. We are grateful for all that he did with us there.
Irving was one of those individuals that you know you are fortunate to have met. His skill and craftsmanship set him apart from any others that shared his trade. More than that he was always ready for whatever task or challenge he was presented with. The Thomas A. Short Company benefited greatly from all of his work there.
There was another side to Irv that was even more invaluable to any of his friends and that was his sincere interest in helping where he could with challenging personal matters. I was fortunate more than once to have been able to tell him about extremely troubling issues that I was experiencing and have him offer suggestions and anecdotes that gave me a sense of well being and confidence that "this too shall pass."
Irving Stevenson left his mark on the world. There are many concrete examples of his excellent work that will remain with us long into the future and all of us are better off having him in our lives.*
